Local Public Health Services (LPHS) A Population Health Focus

Contract Framework

The Local Public Health Services (LPHS) contract provides funding to Local Boards of Health for the delivery of activities and services within the jurisdiction of the Board of Health.

Population health refers to the health outcomes within a group of people. Non-population health refers to considering the health of one person at a time.

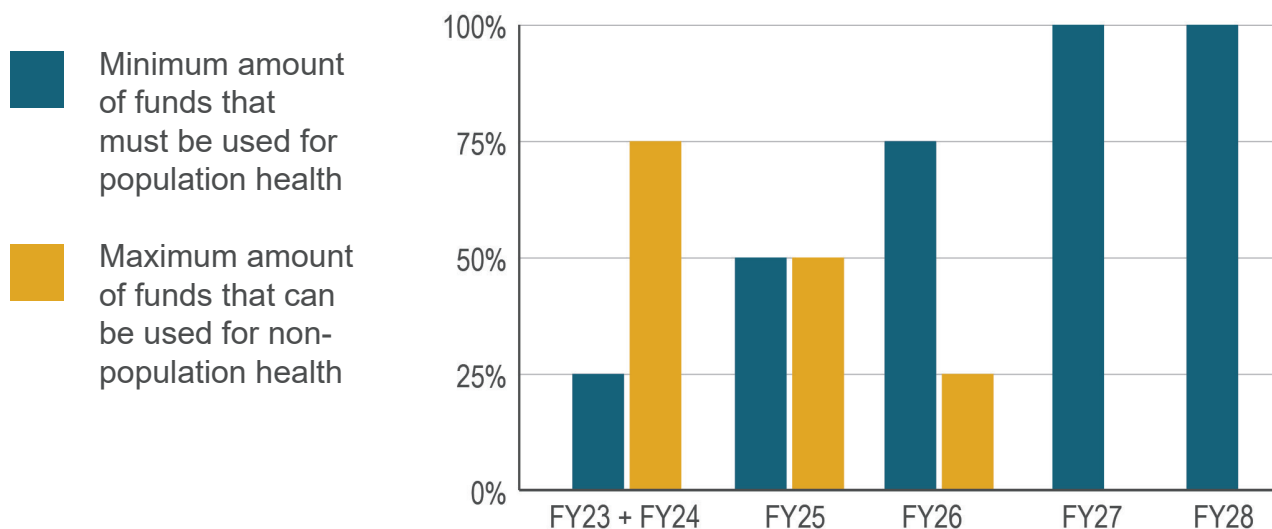

The LPHS contract was redesigned in FY23 to initiate the dedicated use of LPHS funds towards the Public Health System with three required areas of work. The required areas of work are leadership and governance; health promotion; and strengthening local public health infrastructure. In FY25, the contract continued to support and build upon this framework, emphasizing sustained efforts in these core areas to improve local public health systems across the state.

Required Areas of Work (Population Health Activities)

Future Utilization of Funds

The Bureau of Environmental and Local Public Health, in collaboration with the local public health agencies continues to advance population health at a systems level. The use of LPHS funds is being incrementally transitioned from supporting non-population health services to exclusively funding population health activities. The phased approach has a goal of achieving 100% allocation of LPHS funds for population health activities by FY27.

How Did We Do in FY25?

62 counties

used 100% of FY25 LPHS funds for population health.

An increase of 7 counties

using 100% of FY25 LPHS funds for population health as compared to 55 counties in FY24.

$6.64 million (87%)

of FY25 LPHS funds were used for population health.

An increase of $360,000

compared to the $6.28 million used for population health in FY24.

73 counties

plan to use 100% of LPHS funds for population health in FY26.

An increase of 11 counties

planning to use 100% of FY26 LPHS funds for population health as compared to 62 in FY25.
